UGRA River Clean Up Art Contest Winners

The top artists in UGRA's River Clean Up art contest to design the event t-shirt were recognized recently by UGRA's Education Committee Chair, Maggie Snow. The design contest winner, Leighton Hale, received a certificate of achievement and a $100 check. Second place winner, Ava Lea O'Donnell, and third place winner, Autumn Atkinson, received certificates of achievement and $50 and $25 checks, respectively. All three artists just completed 8th grade at Hal Peterson Middle School. "Thank you all for contributing your artwork to this year's contest and for your dedication to help protect the Guadalupe River. It was very difficult to choose just one winner from such a talented group," said Snow.
